

After many comings and goings!

I am happy to inform my collaborators that - after many comings and goings - I have received the Blessing from Pope Francis. What am I talking about? Let me explain!

As you know, my poem "Dreams of a Deafblind Man" has won over the world through more than 15 languages in which it has been translated. I envisioned, then, seeking to have Pope Francis' blessing the poem. And so I went in search of "connections" to achieve this, knowing that the Pope, besides being the Head of the Catholic Church, is a Head of State, and, thus, it is ultra complicated to make something get to him. Even knowing this, my development stated: Always try!

First action: "Digging" addresses that could be more or less effective for my objective. I managed to get two addresses through collaborators who live in Italy.

Second action: I sent by mail - with the support of a collaborator - two letters. One to each address.

My letter to the Pope is in Spanish. I send it below in PDF format for you to read:

Third action: Track the letters using the Post Office records. The collaborator followed the letters for me and always warned me: The letters are near the final destination, they are on the way!

Fourth Action: Have a lot of faith and patience!

On June 5, 2022, I received at my home a small envelope addressed to the Apostolic Nunciature of Brazil. As you know, the Apostolic Nunciature is a kind of "Bridge" to the Pope. Each country has its own Apostolic Nunciature.

And what did the envelope bring?

A letter signed by Monsignor Luigi Roberto Cona, assessor for general affairs of the Vatican Secretariat, transmitting to me - Alex - the words of Pope Francis. I am sending the letter below for you to read. The letter is in PDF and in Portuguese.

Pope Francis dedicates the blessings to my person - Alex - invoking my Family and all who are dear to me, that is, you who are reading this publication, feel blessed.

Pope Francis did not directly quote the poem, but by highlighting "... those dear to him..." it defends me to take the blessings to all my brothers and sisters - Deafblind People, People with multiple disabilities, People with Hydrocephalus, People with Rare Diseases, Families and our collaborators, all over the World.

Greetings, and please share!

Alex Garcia
